Dinner Party Time

Plan a dinner party for the main character and other characters in the story. You'll want to have at least 8 to 10 people at the party. If there are not enough people in the story, then write down famous people you'd like to invite as guests.

List the people you'd like to invite.

How will you seat your guests? You'll be dining at a long table. Some people might not get along with each other. Others will prefer sitting next to someone they know. Draw small rectangles to represent placemats. Then write the name of each guest in the placemat.

What will you serve your guests? Make a fun menu. List the items in the order they'll be served.
